

on a world-wide level with the United Nations becoming a true world government, she said.

After her brief stop to talk, the pilgrim waved and resumed her walk with the long and vigorous strides of a 25-year-old.

---